UCLA has a long tradition of academic and research excellence, so it’s no surprise that academics are an important part of our transfer admission and selection criteria. We encourage you to meet with your counselor for individual advising and to review our Transfer Admission Guide (www.admission.ucla.edu/transfer) for specific requirements. At a minimum, you must satisfy the following four requirements:

1. Complete 60 semester or 90 quarter units of UC-transferable college credit (junior-level standing)

2. Complete the UC 7-course pattern (2 English composition, 1 math, 4 electives)

3. Complete a significant amount of lower-division major preparation for your intended major

4. Maintain a GPA of at least 3.2 in all transferable courses

In addition to required academic preparation, UCLA also evaluates all non-academic and out-of-classroom achievements, including, but not limited to, employment, family responsibilities, military service, honors and awards, extracurricular activities, volunteer work, and the student’s lived and learned experiences. For more information about our selection process, please review the Transfer Admission Guide.
As a transfer student here at UCLA, you will be provided numerous resources to assist you with transitioning into your new academic and personal environment. You’ve made it to UCLA, but you may need advice navigating a new campus full of choices and opportunities. Located in the Student Activities Center, the Bruin Resource Center is here to help you hit the ground running by connecting you to the university system and offering support and the tools you need to achieve your desired goals at UCLA and beyond. The BRC provides programs for:

- Transfer Students
- Students with Dependents
- Former/Current Foster Students
- Undocumented Students
- Intergroup Relations
- GRIT Coaching Program
- UCLA Veterans

UCLA is in the top 15% of US schools for positive and rewarding experience for military students.
The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) can be filed starting January 1 - available at: www.fafsa.gov. Make sure you complete it before the March 2 priority filing deadline. Based on your FAFSA and other information you submit, the Financial Aid Office will determine your eligibility for a variety of funding options, including scholarships, grants, work-study programs and loans. AB 540 eligible students who are not U.S. citizens or permanent residents can apply for aid via the Dream Act application. International students are not eligible for university, state, or federal financial aid. We urge international students to research scholarship opportunities from private organizations both within the US and your home country.

If you are a California resident, the California Student Aid Commission provides grants to qualified students. If you are not a California resident, your home state might offer college grants even if you attend an institution in another state. Check the U.S. Department of Education website for a list of state higher education agencies that can direct you to the proper resources.

The UCLA Scholarship Resource Center is available to help you identify scholarships for which you are qualified. Other resources including community service organizations in your hometown, faith-based groups and your college career/college counseling center are options to explore. We also encourage you to initiate a search for additional scholarship resources via the internet. Online searches will reveal various websites and databases dedicated to helping you locate the best scholarship opportunities. For information about searching for UCLA scholarships and other outside scholarships, please review our Scholarship Resource Center website at: http://scholarshipcenter.ucla.edu.
