HOW DO TRANSFERS MAKE IT HERE?
BY KNOWING THAT UCLA IS POSSIBLE.

Preparing for transfer is about getting ready to succeed at UCLA. It’s about making the right choices for you, based on your major and your career focus. We want you here. Once you’re ready to make the transition to UCLA, we’re here to help. Why? We know that transfer students add to the fabric of our community and arrive at UCLA with a diversity of interests and backgrounds and the intellectual passion to graduate and succeed.
UCLA has a long tradition of academic and research excellence, so it’s no surprise that academics are an important part of our transfer admission and selection criteria. We encourage you to meet with your counselor for individual advising and to review our Transfer Admission Guide (www.admission.ucla.edu/transfer) for specific requirements. At a minimum, you must satisfy the following four requirements:

1. Complete 60 semester or 90 quarter units of UC-transferable college credit (junior-level standing)

2. Complete the UC 7-course pattern (2 English composition, 1 math, 4 electives). Students are encouraged to take required English and math courses as early as possible with at least one English course completed by fall

3. Complete a significant amount of lower-division major preparation for your intended major

4. Maintain a GPA of at least 3.2 in all transferable courses

For California Community College Students, ASSIST (www.assist.org) provides detailed information on transferable courses, major prep requirements, and course articulation.

OTHER FACTORS

In addition to required academic preparation, UCLA also evaluates all non-academic and out-of-classroom achievements, including, but not limited to:

- employment
- military service
- extracurricular activities
- the student’s experiences
- family responsibilities
- honors & awards
- volunteer work

For more information about our selection process, please review the Transfer Admission Guide.

ACADEMIC
Student Transfer Outreach & Mentor Program (STOMP)
www.admission.ucla.edu/stomp

UC Transfer Admission Planner
https://uctap.universityofcalifornia.edu

Center for Accessible Education
www.caе.ucla.edu

Transfer Alliance Program
www.tap.ucla.edu

Center for Community College Partnerships (CCCP)
www.cccp.ucla.edu

Honors Program
www.honors.ucla.edu

Cluster
www.uei.ucla.edu/clustersupper.htm

Undergraduate Research:
www.ucla.edu/research/undergraduate-research

FAMILY SUPPORT
Transfer Housing
https://housing.ucla.edu/student-housing/transfer-students

Family housing
https://housing.ucla.edu/student-housing

Early Care and Education
www.ece.ucla.edu

ADDITIONAL SUPPORT
First To Go
www.firsttogo.ucla.edu

LGBT Campus Resource Center
www.lgbt.ucla.edu

INTERNATIONAL
Dashew Center for International Students and Scholars
www.internationalcenter.ucla.edu
You will be provided many resources to assist you with transitioning into your new personal and academic environment. You’ve made it to UCLA, but you may need advice navigating a new campus full of choices and opportunities. The Bruin Resource Center is here to help you hit the ground running by connecting you to the university system and offering support and the tools you need to achieve your desired goals at UCLA and beyond, go to: www.brc.ucla.edu. The BRC provides support through the following:

Bruin Guardian Scholars
This program was created in 2008 by UCLA and student advocates to help address the unmet needs of the current and former foster youth at UCLA. The Guardian Scholars Program was designed to assist former foster youth, focusing on support services for undergraduate and graduate students.

Bruin Guardian Scholars Academy
The UCLA Bruin Guardian Scholars Academy ("BGSA") served as the pilot program for the First Star Academy model, when it launched in 2011 as a partnership between First Star, UCLA, and the Los Angeles Department of Children and Family Services.

GRIT Peer Coaching Program
This program provides peer-to-peer life coaching for students. Well-trained peer coaches personally assist students to catalyze their success in multiple dimensions of well-being through strategies for academic success, social support, and self-efficacy.

Intergroup Relations Program
This program was established in January 2008 as part of the Office of Student Affairs Campus Diversity Initiative. Its members are students, staff, faculty and management from Student Affairs, the College of Letters & Science and departments across campus.

Students with Dependents Program
This program provides caring and personalized support to UCLA students who are parents, guardians, and caregivers at the undergraduate, graduate and professional school level. As a part of Student Affairs, our program is committed to helping students succeed, both as parents and scholars.

Transfer Student Center
The Transfer Student Center was created in 2009 by the Vice Chancellor of Student Affairs in order to expand institutional supports for underrepresented students. Our office is committed to serving the diverse population of transfer students at UCLA and the needs particular to this community.

Veterans Resource Center
The Veterans Resource Center (VRC) provides caring and personalized support for undergraduate and graduate student veterans in their transition from military service to civilian and college life at UCLA.

Undocumented Student Program
This program offers caring and personalized support to undergraduate and graduate undocumented students. We provide a welcoming and safe space to help students navigate UCLA. The BRC offers mentoring and encouragement, guidance on educational strategies and financial opportunities, and tools to succeed academically and personally.

Collegiate Recovery Program
This program was established in 2016 to provide support to UCLA students on their path to recovery from substance use or other addictive behaviors. We are dedicated to providing academic, wellness, and emotional support to students who are in recovery or who are considering recovery.

---

TOP 5
UCLA is ranked #5 in Best Colleges for Veterans among National Universities by US News & World Report

---

FALL 2018 TRANSFER ADMIT PROFILE

- Applications: 23,700
- Average G.P.A. unweighted: 3.78
- Acceptance Rate: 24%

Average G.P.A. varies significantly by major. For a complete list of majors with detailed information, please visit the Admitted Transfer Student Profile webpage at: admission.ucla.edu/prospect/adm_tr.htm
The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) can be filed starting October 1 - available at: www.fafsa.gov. Make sure you complete it before the March 2 priority filing deadline. Based on your FAFSA and other information you submit, the Financial Aid Office will determine your eligibility for a variety of funding options, including scholarships, grants, work-study programs and loans. AB 540 eligible students who are not U.S. citizens or permanent residents can apply for aid via the Dream Act application. International students are not eligible for university, state, or federal financial aid. We urge international students to research scholarship opportunities from private organizations both within the US and your home country.

The UCLA Scholarship Resource Center is available to help you identify scholarships for which you are qualified. Other resources including community service organizations in your hometown, faith-based groups and your college career/college counseling center are options to explore. We also encourage you to initiate a search for additional scholarship resources via the internet. Online searches will reveal various websites and databases dedicated to helping you locate the best scholarship opportunities. For information about searching for UCLA scholarships and other outside scholarships, please review our Scholarship Resource Center website at: www.scholarshipcenter.ucla.edu.

The UCLA Undergraduate Admission Financial Aid Office will determine your eligibility for funding options, including scholarships, grants, work-study programs and loans. AB 540 eligible students who are not U.S. citizens or permanent residents can apply for aid via the Dream Act application. International students are not eligible for university, state, or federal financial aid. We urge international students to research scholarship opportunities from private organizations both within the US and your home country.

The UCLA Scholarship Resource Center is available to help you identify scholarships for which you are qualified. Other resources including community service organizations in your hometown, faith-based groups and your college career/college counseling center are options to explore. We also encourage you to initiate a search for additional scholarship resources via the internet. Online searches will reveal various websites and databases dedicated to helping you locate the best scholarship opportunities. For information about searching for UCLA scholarships and other outside scholarships, please review our Scholarship Resource Center website at: www.scholarshipcenter.ucla.edu.

Types of financial aid

The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) can be filed starting October 1 - available at: www.fafsa.gov. Make sure you complete it before the March 2 priority filing deadline. Based on your FAFSA and other information you submit, the Financial Aid Office will determine your eligibility for a variety of funding options, including scholarships, grants, work-study programs and loans. AB 540 eligible students who are not U.S. citizens or permanent residents can apply for aid via the Dream Act application. International students are not eligible for university, state, or federal financial aid. We urge international students to research scholarship opportunities from private organizations both within the US and your home country.

The UCLA Scholarship Resource Center is available to help you identify scholarships for which you are qualified. Other resources including community service organizations in your hometown, faith-based groups and your college career/college counseling center are options to explore. We also encourage you to initiate a search for additional scholarship resources via the internet. Online searches will reveal various websites and databases dedicated to helping you locate the best scholarship opportunities. For information about searching for UCLA scholarships and other outside scholarships, please review our Scholarship Resource Center website at: www.scholarshipcenter.ucla.edu.

Types of financial aid

The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) can be filed starting October 1 - available at: www.fafsa.gov. Make sure you complete it before the March 2 priority filing deadline. Based on your FAFSA and other information you submit, the Financial Aid Office will determine your eligibility for a variety of funding options, including scholarships, grants, work-study programs and loans. AB 540 eligible students who are not U.S. citizens or permanent residents can apply for aid via the Dream Act application. International students are not eligible for university, state, or federal financial aid. We urge international students to research scholarship opportunities from private organizations both within the US and your home country.

The UCLA Scholarship Resource Center is available to help you identify scholarships for which you are qualified. Other resources including community service organizations in your hometown, faith-based groups and your college career/college counseling center are options to explore. We also encourage you to initiate a search for additional scholarship resources via the internet. Online searches will reveal various websites and databases dedicated to helping you locate the best scholarship opportunities. For information about searching for UCLA scholarships and other outside scholarships, please review our Scholarship Resource Center website at: www.scholarshipcenter.ucla.edu.

Types of financial aid

The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) can be filed starting October 1 - available at: www.fafsa.gov. Make sure you complete it before the March 2 priority filing deadline. Based on your FAFSA and other information you submit, the Financial Aid Office will determine your eligibility for a variety of funding options, including scholarships, grants, work-study programs and loans. AB 540 eligible students who are not U.S. citizens or permanent residents can apply for aid via the Dream Act application. International students are not eligible for university, state, or federal financial aid. We urge international students to research scholarship opportunities from private organizations both within the US and your home country.

The UCLA Scholarship Resource Center is available to help you identify scholarships for which you are qualified. Other resources including community service organizations in your hometown, faith-based groups and your college career/college counseling center are options to explore. We also encourage you to initiate a search for additional scholarship resources via the internet. Online searches will reveal various websites and databases dedicated to helping you locate the best scholarship opportunities. For information about searching for UCLA scholarships and other outside scholarships, please review our Scholarship Resource Center website at: www.scholarshipcenter.ucla.edu.