Transfer students are guaranteed one year of university housing. Of transfers graduate in just over two years at UCLA.

How do transfers make it here? By knowing that UCLA is possible.

Preparing for transfer is about getting ready to succeed at UCLA. It’s about making the right choices for you, based on your major and your career focus. We want you here. Once you’re ready to make the transition to UCLA, we’re here to help. Why? We know that transfer students add to the fabric of our community and arrive at UCLA with a diversity of interests and backgrounds and the intellectual passion to graduate and succeed.

20% of transfer students graduate with a minor. 33% of upperclassmen came in as transfer students. 94% of admitted transfers come from a California community college. 85% of transfers graduate in just over two years at UCLA. Transfer students are guaranteed one year of university housing.
UCLA has a long tradition of academic and research excellence, so it’s no surprise that academics are an important part of our transfer admission and selection criteria. We encourage you to meet with your counselor for individual advising and to review our Transfer Admission Guide (www.admission.ucla.edu/transfer) for specific requirements. At a minimum, you must satisfy the following four requirements:

1. Complete 60 semester or 90 quarter units of UC-transferable college credit (junior-level standing)

2. Complete the UC 7-course pattern (2 English composition, 1 math, 4 electives). Students are encouraged to take required English and math courses as early as possible.

3. Complete a significant amount of lower-division major preparation for your intended major.

4. Maintain a GPA of at least 3.2 in all transferable courses. Note that applicants for highly selective majors should present a strong GPA in order to be competitive for admission.

For California Community College Students, ASSIST (www.assist.org) provides detailed information on transferable courses, major prep requirements, and course articulation.

OTHER FACTORS

In addition to required academic preparation, UCLA also evaluates all non-academic and out-of-classroom achievements, including, but not limited to:

- employment
- family responsibilities
- military service
- honors & awards
- extracurricular activities
- volunteer work
- the student’s experiences

For more information about our selection process, please review the Transfer Admission Guide.

Nearly one in three UC students starts at a community college before graduating from a UC campus
You will be provided many resources to assist you with transitioning into your new academic and personal environment. You’ve made it to UCLA, but you may need advice navigating a new campus full of choices and opportunities. The Bruin Resource Center is here to help you hit the ground running by connecting you to the university system and offering support and the tools you need to achieve your desired goals at UCLA and beyond, go to: www.brc.ucla.edu. The BRC provides support through the following:

Students with Dependents Program
This program provides caring and personalized support to UCLA students who are parents, guardians, and caregivers at the undergraduate, graduate and professional school level. As a part of Student Affairs, our program is committed to helping students succeed, both as parents and scholars.

Transfer Student Center
The Transfer Student Center’s mission is to provide transfer students resources and programming that connects them to the university and supports them in achieving their personal, academic, and professional goals.

Veterans Resource Center
The Veterans Resource Center (VRC) provides caring and personalized support for undergraduate and graduate student veterans in their transition from military service to civilian and college life at UCLA.

Undocumented Student Program
This program offers caring and personalized support to undergraduate and graduate undocumented students. We provide a welcoming and safe space to help students navigate UCLA. The BRC offers mentoring and encouragement, guidance on educational strategies and financial opportunities, and tools to succeed academically and personally.

Collegiate Recovery Program
This program was established in 2016 to provide support to UCLA students on their path to recovery from substance use or other addictive behaviors. The Collegiate Recovery Program is dedicated to providing academic, wellness, and emotional support to students who are in recovery or who are considering recovery.

Bruin Guardian Scholars
This program was created by UCLA and student advocates to help address the unmet needs of the current and former foster youth at UCLA. The focus of the Guardian Scholars program is to build a welcoming community and to promote the wellness, and academic achievements of foster youth students.

Bruin Guardian Scholars Academy
The mission of BGSA is to provide foster youth with necessary educational and psycho-social support to help them graduate high school and enroll in post-secondary education.

GRIT Peer Coaching Program
This program provides peer-to-peer life coaching for students. Well-trained peer coaches personally assist students to catalyze their success in multiple dimensions of well-being through strategies for academic success, social support, and self-efficacy.

Intergroup Relations Program
The Intergroup Dialogue (IGD) Program engages, supports and educates the UCLA community on issues of social identity, interpersonal and intergroup relations/conflict, prejudice reduction, social justice, and imparts valuable multicultural skills to the UCLA community.

UCLA is ranked #4 in Best Colleges for Veterans among National Universities by US News & World Report
Types of Financial Aid

The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) can be filed starting October 1 - available at: www.fafsa.gov. Make sure you complete it before the March 2 priority filing deadline. Based on your FAFSA and other information you submit, the Financial Aid Office will determine your eligibility for a variety of funding options, including scholarships, grants, work-study programs and loans. AB 540 eligible students who are not U.S. citizens or permanent residents can apply for aid via the Dream Act application. International students are not eligible for university, state, or federal financial aid. We urge international students to research scholarship opportunities from private organizations both within the US and your home country.

The UCLA Scholarship Resource Center is available to help you identify scholarships for which you are qualified. Other resources including community service organizations in your hometown, faith-based groups and your college career/college counseling center are options to explore. We also encourage you to initiate a search for additional scholarship resources via the internet. Online searches will reveal various websites and databases dedicated to helping you locate the best scholarship opportunities. For information about searching for UCLA scholarships and other outside scholarships, please review our Scholarship Resource Center website at: www.scholarshipcenter.ucla.edu.

Also available to California residents are the UC Blue and Gold Opportunity Plan and the Middle Class Scholarship Program (MCSP). These both qualify as grants, which are rewards that the recipient does not have to repay. These are mostly awarded based on need and require submission of the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) or the Dream Act Application by March 2nd.
