Welcome to The Hill.

Learning doesn’t just happen in the classroom. It happens in hallways, at the dinner table, and while you’re walking across campus.

In the northwest corner of UCLA there is a place that makes this valuable learning experience possible. A foundation on higher ground that overlooks the campus and the entire City of Angels.

This place is UCLA on-campus housing. We call it “The Hill.” And we think you’ll like calling it home.
OUR LOCATION IS UNBEATABLE

UCLA on-campus housing is a tight-knit community that lets you take a break from the bustle of city life. Your friends, classmates, meals, and resources are all in one central and convenient spot.

The Hill is just steps away from Bruin Walk, the main thoroughfare to the UCLA campus. Westwood Village is right down the street, and public transit and rideshares make it easy to get around LA.

Everyone’s first year on The Hill is a little different. At UCLA Housing we take great care to craft the first-year experience so that all students enter into this formative year feeling confident and empowered.

In addition, our student-run committees and organizations connect with residents through health & wellness workshops, creative hackathons, open mic nights, and much more.

Our Faculty in Residence and twelve Living Learning Communities help residents explore ideas and identities through events, field trips, conversations, and more.

Discover the latest creative technology in our computer labs, a digital music production studio, and a do-it-yourself makerspace.

Students can also acquire valuable skills by working part-time on The Hill or joining the on-campus housing government council.

College is a tremendous life change. UCLA Housing helps students make the transition to campus life in safe and inclusive environments.

Resident Assistants on each floor are an excellent resource for support and advice. Building access is controlled through secure entry points, and our Community Service Officers and live-on staff are available 24 hours a day to protect and help you in a crisis.

UCLA Housing also strives to make The Hill the healthiest university housing environment in the country. We collaborate with the Healthy Campus Initiative and the Arthur Ashe Center for Student Wellness to promote well-being on every level: in body, mind, and spirit.
The future looks bright

At UCLA Housing there’s always something new and exciting on the horizon.

This fall, we’re breaking ground on a 600-unit residence hall slated to open Fall 2021. This project will bring us one step closer to a four-year housing guarantee for all students.

Next, we’ll celebrate UCLA’s 100th birthday in 2019 with a full schedule of events on The Hill.

In 2028, The Hill will transform into the Olympic and Paralympic Village and host over 25,000 athletes for the XXXIV Summer Olympiad.
